

BARRE DAILY TIMES

Published at the Postoffice at Barre as Second Class Matter.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1905

King Edward seems to have followed, and not set, the style of wearing a red tam 'o' shanter.

The prudent buyer does not wait until the last day before Christmas. There are only three full buying days left.

A lumberman told the Waterbury Record the other day that he was "through cutting down small trees," which is good, provided the resolution is not merely temporary. Now let the farmers come to the same conclusion.

SENDING MONEY HOME.

At this time of the year in particular, although the same conditions obtain to a lesser extent all during the twelve months, the money order department of the local post office and express company do a tremendous amount of business. This is because of the rush of foreign born citizens to send money to friends at home. It is a generally recognized fact that a considerable percentage of the wages paid out in Barre goes to foreign countries, for the maintenance of relatives and friends of the men who are getting the benefit of high wages here. This gives just a hint of the enormous amount of money sent from the United States as a whole. For the first two weeks of the present December the total sent across the water was $3,142,700. This sum represents only an average enclosure of $15, for there are 209,879 senders. In one day's time the outgoing steamers carried $300,000. Of the money orders by far the greater amount goes to Great Britain, something like three times the total going to Italy, which generally stands next in the list of the countries. Taking a certain day's shipments the amounts were as follows: Great Britain $290,000; Italy, $91,000; Sweden, $75,000; Germany, $75,000; Hungary, $66,000; Austria, $62,000; Russia, $60,000; with Denmark, Switzerland, Belgium, Greece and Netherlands receiving considerable sums.
